Toledo	No	Yes	We draw for holidays (office people) at the beginning of every year. If a holiday falls in the middle or end of the week - we draw to see who works those odd days around it and, of course, Friday after Thanksgiving. Since Christmas and New Years falls on the weekend and so did the 4th of July, we only are worrying about the day after Veterans' Day and Thanksgiving. But its basically a skeleton crew
John Day	No*	No	*John Day gives 2 floating holidays at the beginning of the year. The Council gave permission to close the office on that day - but employees are required to utilize either vacation or one of their floaters
